Women in Leadership: Stories of Success Across Sectors

hosted by the JASO Women's Leadership Council

11:30-1:30pm, Thursday February 7, 2019

The Atrium at the Hilton downtown Portland, 925 SW 6th Ave

The Japan-America Society of Oregon (JASO) is a volunteer-driven 501 c3 non-profit organization with the mission to support business and develop community by strengthening the US-Japan relationship.

In late 2017 JASO formed a Women's Leadership Council to inspire and empower women and supporters of women through US-Japan related events. In the summer of 2018 Sasakawa Peace Foundation chose Oregon as the new US host of its Japan Update series, focusing on the topic of women's empowerment.

The Council hosts a fireside conversation over lunch featuring:

Karen Narasaki, Commissioner, US Commission of Civil Rights

Appointed by Barack Obama in July 2014, Karen has a long history of advocating for women and Asian-Americans throughout government and business, and is recognized as one of the 100 most powerful women in Washington DC.

Junko Tsuda, Executive Director, US-Japan Council Tokyo

Junko leads the Japan arm of the US-Japan Council, after a business career in HR promoting women's initiatives and equality in companies including ING and GE.

Ellen Rosenblum, Attorney General, State of Oregon

Leading by example as Oregon's first ever female Attorney General, Ellen has a sharp perspective on working to ensure women get equal opportunity for success in the workplace.
